

January 23rd, 2015

Search this website...

Search

Wema Bank
 ...people banking on people

University Degree Course
 rdl.co.uk/distance_learning
 Study At Home In Nigeria. No VISA
 Available. Apply Online!

Home	Metro Plus	i-punch	News	Politics	Business	Sports	Opinion	Entertainment	Education	Health
------	------------	---------	------	----------	----------	--------	---------	---------------	-----------	--------

Blogs	Jobs	Forum	Money
-------	------	-------	-------	--	--	--	--	--	--	--

 You are here: Home / Metro Plus / Gunmen invade drug store, kill pharmacist

Gunmen invade drug store, kill pharmacist

JANUARY 23, 2015 BY DANIEL GBABO ■ 0 COMMENTS

Share Tweet Email Like 3 g+1

There was confusion in the Gboko Local Government Area of Benue State on Thursday as suspected assassins shot and killed a pharmacist, Tamongu Labe, on Wednesday night at his popular outlet, Labet Pharmacy.

Labe, who was also a trained lawyer, was shot in the head

PUNCH Metro gathered that residents, who learnt of Labe's death on Thursday, took to the streets in protest.

It was further gathered that the main market, shops and filling stations were closed for the fear of the unknown as the youths were chanting war songs.

One of the protesters, who identified herself as Mwuese, said that everybody was pained by Labe's murder.

Mwuese said, "Both the old and young are touched by Labe's murder and we are all calling for the arrest of his killers.

"This was a young man that touched the lives of so many people. Out of every 100 persons in this place you will find that at least 60 bought drugs on credit or were given free of charge by him."

A youth seen carrying a locally-made gun around the central police station in the town was shouting "they must fish out his killers"

Efforts to speak with his wife, Mrs Labe, proved abortive as she was weeping uncontrollably.

The state Police Public Relations Officer, John Bako, said the police had been able to douse the tension in the area.

Bako noted that if not for the quick intervention of the police, the mob would have razed the central police station, though they succeeded in causing damage to an outpost in the main market.

He said, "Some guys took advantage of the protest but our men were able to put the situation under control."

Copyright PUNCH.

All rights reserved. This material, and other digital content on this website, may not be reproduced, published, broadcast, rewritten or redistributed in whole or in part without prior express written permission from PUNCH.

Contact: editor@punchng.com

Capital Market

Industry

Business & Economy

International Business

AM Business

Most Read

Recent Comments

Most Commented

Odds in favour of Buhari

Buhari's certificate forged – PDP

Youths attack President's campaign team in Bauchi

...PDP has exhausted its lies, Oshiomhole says

Nobody can stop me from visiting Bayelsa –Patience Jonathan

What is happening in your area ?

 Send information, picture or video to punchonline@punchng.com
PUNCH Online Extra

23 days to elections, 60% yet to collect PVCs

More Posts...

☐ Facebook

☐ Twitter 12

☐ Google+