"The hoodlums shot sporadically to scare people away as they took off from the bank," the source added.

The indiscriminate shooting by the fleeing robbers was said to have created a pandemonium in the area as passersby, street hawkers and other residents ran in different directions to escape being caught in the gunfire of the invaders.

The Police Public Relations Officer in the state, Mr. Williams Aya, confirmed the incident, saying no arrest had been made. Aya said the police had commenced investigation into the incident, adding that the command would ensure that the perpetrators were brought to book.
