Minna - A gas explosion has left one person dead and two others injured in Minna, the state capital of Niger state, Channelstv reports.

The deceased, an attendant identified as Sani Adewale was killed in the incident that occurred around 11.30am when he was trying to refill a gas cylinder.

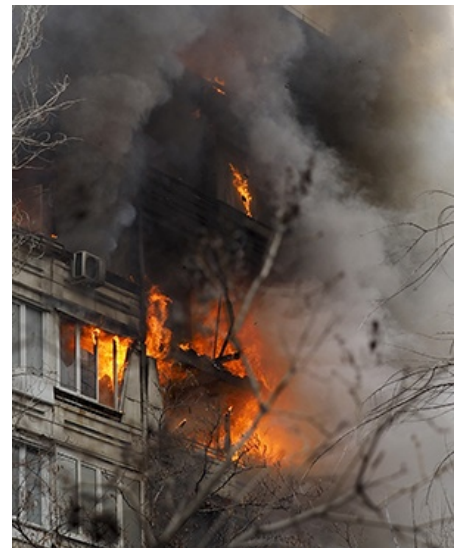

The body, suspected to be the owner of the shop, was found mutilated on the floor of the shop with two other people also injured.

The gas shop, located near a second generation bank, had just opened for the day's business when neighbours heard a loud explosion.
