

NDLEA officials kill headmaster in Nasarawa

August 16, 2016

Umar Muhammed, Lafia

24 Shares Officials of the National Drug Law Enforcement Agency on Sunday allegedly shot dead a primary schoolteacher, Abubakar Inusa, in Nunku community, in the Akwanga Local Government Area, Nasarawa State.

22 A witness, who did not want his name in print, told PUNCH Metro that the NDLEA officials invaded the community at about 8pm and shot sporadically into the air.

He said during the shooting, Inusa was hit by a bullet in the head and he died.

He also gathered that an identity card belonging to one Hassan Musa Abdullahi, a senior narcotics officer, was recovered at the scene of the shooting. Also found was a bag containing Indian hemp and handcuffs.

The state Commissioner of Police, Abubakar Bello, who confirmed the incident, said it took the intervention of the police and the traditional ruler of Mada Ian, the Chun Mada, Samson Yare, to quell the unrest that led to the killing on Sunday.

“The roads were barricaded again on Monday, but the police persuaded the youths to reopen them,” Bello added.

When our correspondent visited the Nasarawa command of the NDLEA, the commandant, Mr. Sumaila Ethan, was said to have travelled. Copyright PUNCH.

All rights reserved. This material, and other digital content on this website, may not be reproduced, published, broadcast, rewritten or redistributed in whole or in part without prior express written permission from PUNCH.

Contact: editor@punchng.com