find alternative settlements, di stayed on boats. It was gathered that some to hoodlums had attacked the fo St community on Saturday, killing one Elijah Avonda,

he

tł

d

n

45, a father of ten children. A resident, Jonathan Zosu, told our correspondent that the demolition was carried out without any prior notice, adding that several residents were stranded.

He said, "On Saturday, Elijah (Avonda) was shot dead by some hoodlums. Today (Sunday), another boy was killed. The task force men started the demolition without any notice. They came in 12am and hundreds of houses were destroyed. They are still on ground, using a bulldozer to pull some structures into the water.

children Our scattered; many children were found in the river. We