

The gory catalogue of tanker explosions in the country read like a nuclear holocaust. On July 23, 2020, about 20 persons were reportedly burnt to death along the Benin-Sapele-Warri Highway when a tanker conveying a petroleum product fell and exploded around the popular Koko junction. No fewer than 10 vehicles were equally gutted by fire.