

Delta aggrieved wife invites siblings for help, husband stabbed to death

Matthew Ochei 22 July 2021

Kindly share this story: f t w in

Delta map

A 50-year-old man, identified only as Oluchi, was on Wednesday stabbed to death after a disagreement between him and his wife.

PUNCH Metro gathered that incident happened at Ulogwe-Isumpe community of Utagbe-Unor in the Ndokwa West Local Government Area of Delta State.

Trouble was said to have started when the couple had a quarrel, which degenerated into a fight.

A community source said the woman invited her siblings to come to her aid, crying on the phone that her husband wanted to kill her.

“The siblings rushed to the scene, and in the course of engaging Oluchi in a fight, one of them reached out for a kitchen knife and stabbed the man.

“He fell as neighbours arrived at the scene and rushed him to a hospital where he was confirmed dead,” the source added.

Read Also

- ▶ Lagos boy cracks stepfather’s skull with pestle, victim dies
- ▶ I only whipped my wife with belt, didn’t mean to kill her – Christopher, Edo waste manager
- ▶ We still mourn our children murdered three months ago, only justice can heal us –Ogun families

Our correspondent learnt that the police arrested the wife.

The acting state Public Relations Officer, DSP Bright EDAFE, confirmed the incident.

EDAFE said, "It is confirmed, but I don't have details yet. The Divisional Police Officer of Kwale has already detailed his men to investigate the incident."