

Court inspector shot by kidnappers dies, NBA mourns

Kindly share this story:

By Chidiebube Okcoma

24th June 2022

Onumajulu

Acustomary court inspector, Odera Onumajulu, who sustained gunshot injuries during a kidnap attack, is dead.

The Owerri branch of the Nigeria Bar Association confirmed the death of the lawyer to PUNCH Metro on Thursday.

Onumajulu, who was kidnapped and shot on May 22 in Owerri, reportedly died on Wednesday after medical personnel battled for one month to save her life.

The gunmen who kidnapped her in front of her house shot her before letting her go.

Related News

Our abductors starved us for almost three days - Ex-NFF scribe, Toro, reveals

Kidnappers release former NFF secretary, ex-Eagles assistant coach

Kidnappers demand N150m for ex-NFF officers abducted after Abuja wedding

The Secretary of the NBA, Owerri branch, Chinedu Agu, said the branch was saddened by the death of the female lawyer.

He said, “Before the ugly incident, Onumajulu was a customary court inspector attached to the Customary Court of Appeal and was called to the Nigerian Bar in 2016.

“It is very sad how another colleague has become a victim in the ravaging insecurity in Imo.”

Tags: