

Lagos lawmaker slumps, dies after APC rally

16th November 2022

Sobur Olawale

By Sodiq Ojuroungbe

Kindly share this story:

A lawmaker representing Mushin Constituency II at the Lagos State House of Assembly, Sobur Olawale, on Tuesday, slumped to death in Jos, Plateau State.

PUNCH Metro gathered that Olawale, popularly known as Omititi, was among the politicians, who stormed Jos for the official flag-off of the All Progressives Congress presidential campaign.

Olawale was said to be returning from the event when he suddenly slumped and died.

Related News

Lagos lawmaker dies at APC Jos rally

UPDATED: Ex-Lagos lawmaker, King Sunny Ade's wife Risikat Adegeye is dead

My drug comment about hoodlums, not youths — Lagos lawmaker

The spokesperson for the APC in Lagos State, Seye Oladejo, in his reaction to the development, described Olawale's death as a tragic loss.

He said, "Sadly, we lost him and that is all I know. It happened in Jos; he was hale and hearty when we departed for Jos this morning on a chartered plane from Lagos. Unfortunately, we lost him in Jos, he did not make the trip back with us."