

Kogi man stabs physically challenged girlfriend to death

8th June 2023

By Gbenga Odogun

Kindly share this story:

A man simply identified as Siyaka Mohammed has reportedly stabbed his girlfriend, Aisha Aminu, to death over a misunderstanding.

The 30-year-old deceased, who is a physically challenged woman, was tragically murdered by her boyfriend on Wednesday in Obehira Okene Local Government Area of Kogi State.

The suspect, a 44-year-old, was reported to have allegedly stabbed his girlfriend severally in the early hours of Wednesday and fled the scene after committing the offense.

An eyewitness said, “The suspected murderer visited the deceased shop a few minutes before 6 am, dragged her from the inner chamber, repeatedly stabbed her until she succumbed to death following the injuries she sustained from her injuries.”

Siyaka said to hail from Obehira in Okene Local Government Area of Kogi state, has since absconded from town and has been declared wanted.

Related News

Man stabs 23-year-old debtor to death in Lagos

Lagos tenant stabs friend to death during argument

Housewife, 30, stabs 18-year-old husband's nephew to death over broken mirror in Ogun

Aisha's body was subsequently deposited at Okengwe General Hospital mortuary.

It was alleged that the deceased and her boyfriend had an ongoing dispute that had been previously reported to both the Vigilante Group of Nigeria and the community head, but the issue remained unresolved.

The state Police Command Public Relations Officer, SP William Aya, confirmed the incident.

Ayah said that the command was on the trail of the suspect with the view to arresting him for prosecution.