A Lagos State Magistrate Court sitting in Ebute-Metta, on Monday, remanded a 35-year-old man, Akeem Adewuyi, to the Nigeria Correctional Centre custody for alleged murder.

Magistrate Mrs Adedayo Tella ordered Adewuyi's remand pending legal advice from the Directorate of Public Prosecution office.

Adewuyi was remanded following a remand application brought before the court by the police, to obtain an order to keep the defendant at the correctional facility pending the outcome of the DPP's legal advice.

The defendant is facing two counts bordering on conspiracy and murder preferred against him by the police.

The police prosecutor, Mrs Francisca Job, told the court that Adewuyi and others at large conspired to commit the alleged offences.

Job told the court that Adewuyi unlawfully killed one Abiola Adetipe, by matcheting him to death.

She said the incident occurred on December 28, 2023, at about 8:50 pm, at No 7 Akinwande Ogundipe Street, New Oko-Oba, Abule-Egba area of Lagos State.

According to her, the offences committed are punishable under Sections 233 and 223 of the Criminal Law of Lagos State 2015.

But the plea of the defendant was not taken as Tella ordered that he should be remanded at the correctional centre, pending the DPP's advice.
