

Abuja mob kills two suspected one-chance operators

17th February 2025

| By Solomon Odeniyi

Two suspected one-chance operators were killed by a mob in the Lugbe area of the Federal Capital Territory on Saturday.

Our correspondent gathered that the mob set ablaze the vehicle allegedly used to perpetrate their crimes.

A commercial driver, who identified himself as Ahmed, told our correspondent that the suspects had thrown a victim out of the moving vehicle.

He said the mob pursued the vehicle and caught up with it after Dunamis church.

— — — — —
•The burnt vehicle

Abuja, others to enjoy full power supply February 23 - AEDC

Transmission line tripping caused power disruptions in Lagos, others - TCN

I served Tinubu govt without pay, rejected N5bn fraudulent offer — Fela Durotoye

“What happened was that after a victim of one chance was thrown out of a moving vehicle, some people chased the vehicle and caught up with them after Dunamis church. Inside the vehicle, there were three people. One managed to escape, the other died and the last one was in critical condition after he was beaten, I heard he later died.

“The victim was taken to hospital by some Good Samaritans for medical care.”

The spokesperson for the FCT Police Command, Josephine Adeh, promised to respond to inquiries but had yet to do so as of the time of filing this report.