

Landlord’s son hacks 22-year-old tenant to death in Ondo

6th May 2025

Agency Report

Kindly share this story.

A 22-year-old lady, Joy Tale, has been reportedly killed by her landlord’s son, Odunayo Olomolatan, 41, in Ode-Irele, Irele Local Government Area of Ondo State.

The News Agency of Nigeria learnt that the tenant was hacked to death on Monday during an argument.

Olayinka Ayanlade, the spokesman for the Police Command in Ondo State, confirmed the incident to NAN in a telephone interview.

Ayanlade said that the suspect has been arrested and in the custody of the Divisional Police Headquarters, Ode-Irele.

He disclosed that investigation has begun to unravel the circumstances surrounding the death of the lady.

Related News

- Man hacks wife to death over alleged extramarital affair
- Fear in Ogun communities as cultist allegedly hacks six to death

“Yes, I can confirm to you that the lady was allegedly hacked to death during argument between her and her landlord son.

“The suspect has been arrested, and investigation is ongoing to unravel circumstances surround the lady’s death,”Ayanlade said.

Meanwhile, Olajide Akinfe, the Chairman of the local government, has called for calm over the incident, urging residents not to take laws into their hands.

Akinfe, who claimed to have visited the divisional police headquarters, said that measures have been put in place to ensure that the suspect did not escape justice.