

Baby Dumped In Soak Away Pit

BENSON AGWU/Asaba

A day-old baby boy wrapped in a polythene bag has been found in a soak-away pit in Kwale, in Ndokwa East local government area of Delta state.

The agonizing cry of the baby attracted Mr. Chukwuma Ossai of Eke Square, Kwale, who was cleaning his compound.

After rescuing the trapped baby from the pit,

Mr. Ossai reported the incident to the police division in Kwale.

The baby boy was thereafter rushed to the General Hospital Kwale for medical attention but efforts to save his life failed as the baby died later. The corpse has been buried.

P.M. News learnt that the police have spread their dragnet to arrest the fleeing mother of the ill-fated baby.