The conductor of a Lagos commuter bus, popularly called molue, has been stabbed to death by another bus conductor during a quarrel over a lady.

The victim was identified as Ahmed Tako, 22. His mother resides at 4, Ibari Street, Agege, while the suspect, Muritala, alias Ora, is of no fixed address.

P.M. News gathered that both conductors often slept inside molue buses, and sometimes in front of shops at Pen Cinema, Agege.

Sources said that on Monday, 19 January, at 2 a.m., a lady, whose name could not be ascertained, was looking for one of the area boys at Total Filling Station near Pen Cinema.

When Ahmed saw her, he held on to her hand and asked her what she was looking for at that odd hour.

According to our sources, as the lady was trying to explain her mission, Muritala emerged from where he was sleeping and asked Ahmed what he was discussing with his girlfriend.

An argument ensued and Muritala allegedly broke a bottle of beer and stabbed Ahmed to death.

Confirming the incident, the Lagos State Police Command spokesperson, Superintendent Frank Mba said: "The Divisional Police Officer at Elere, Agege, CSP Adebisi Bola Lateef, led a team of policemen to the scene, removed the corpse of the deceased and deposited it at the Isolo General Hospital.

"The police have arrested three suspects in connection with the incident and they are currently being detained."
