

Truck Crushes Mother, Child

PAULIYOGHOJIE

An overspeeding truck with registration number XT 746 FST has crushed a woman and her male child waiting to board a bus at Igbo Efon, Ajah in Eti-Osa Local Government Area of Lagos State.

While the child died instantly, the mother survived and was rushed to the hospital where she is presently being treated.

P.M.NEWS gathered that the woman and her child were waiting to board a bus by the roadside when the truck hit them.

The unidentified driver of the bus fled the scene immediately the accident occurred to avoid being lynched by an angry mob which had gathered.

A commercial motorcyclist at the scene who identified himself as Tunde disclosed that he had been following the truck from Lekki Second Gate and the way the driver was driving showed that he was either drunk or sleeping.

"He veered off the road and crushed the mother and child. Federal Road Safety Commission officials should always make themselves available on Ajah road to check this kind of ugly incident," he stated.

The accident caused traffic gridlock on the ever-busy road stretching up to Lekki Second Gate and Ajah Bus Stop.
