Vigilance boss arraigned in court

FROM DOM
EKPUNOBI, Onitsha

Few days after some vigilance group members were arrested by the police in Onitsha, Anambra State, for alleged murder, the commander of Umuchu vigilance group, Chinedu Umuakasi, has been arraigned before an Ekwulobia Magistrate Court for alleged threat and misuse of dangerous weapon.

The suspect, who is also known as Bishop, was taken to court for allegedly using offensive weapon to attack some civilians.

The arraignment followed a report by one Mr. Greg Ezechukwu, who alleged that the defendant threatened him with prohibited firearms at Nkwor Market, Umuchu.

The case, which was scheduled for trial before Okafor, could not go on when it was called up because the prosecution was not ready to proceed.
