I'm a robber, murderer – Suspect

By Christopher Oji

AN armed robbery suspect has confessed that he is not only a wicked robber but also a murderer.

Ayo, who is being interrogated at the Special Anti Robbery Squad (SARS), of the Ogun State Police Command, Abeokuta, spoke to Daily Sun: "Yes, there is no need lying to you. I am an armed robber. I specialised in commercial Motorcycle theft. I don't remove from the park, I rob the rider. The way I operated was that I would arm myself with either a rod or strong stick. I would chatter Okada to a place that we must pass through a lonely place. Once we were in a lonely place, I would lie that any of my personal effects had fallen off and the rider would stop, I would use the rod or stick to hit the rider on his head or chest, drag him to the bush and zoom off with the motorcycle.

"I agree with you that I am wicked and a murderer. Anyone that kills is wicked and a murderer. I robbed and killed, what other adjective do you need to qualify me. A wicked murderer. I am not in dispute with you, I committed grievous offences through robbery. I don't think heaven and earth will ever forgive me, so let me face the music.

"Okay, I was arrested by the Police through one of my customers who bought stolen motorcycle from me. I did not know how the police discovered that the motorcycle was stolen. The police picked the man and he mentioned me. The last man that I killed was the owner of the Okada.

"Are you still asking how I killed him? Well, I have told you the truth. I never operated with gun. I used stick to hit him on the chest and he died instantly. He was not strong. I just hit him once and he died instantly. I suspected that the man was sick. The way he died without even struggling showed he was sick.

"You may not understand that things are difficult and man must survive because the world is a jungle. If you experience hunger, you can do anything to survive."
