

Decomposing body of new born baby found near Osun River

From Clement Adeyi,
Osogbo

A decomposing body of a new born baby was found at the weekend near Osun River at Ibu Amon community near Osogbo, the Osun State capital.

Daily Sun gathered that the dead baby might have been dumped on Thursday night but was discovered Friday morning.

A community leader, Mr. Fatai Olayiwola, said he was shocked to find the baby where it was dumped.

Olayiwola said the residents alerted the Nigeria Security and Civil Defence Corps (NSCDC) of their discovery and their officials came to the scene immediately.

"I was informed by some residents that a new born baby was dumped close to the river. I went there and saw the dead baby.

"We informed the (NSCDC) and they sent some of their officials.

The Public Relations Officer of the NSCDC, Mr. Afolabi Babawale, who was at the scene warned the public to desist from such wicked act.
