KOKOMASTER. That was his alias by which he was more known in the neighbourhood as a loverboy and a super stud. But, March 23 was a tragic day for late Olanimu Babatunde, as he died trying to live up to his billing as a man of high sexual prowess. The 29-year-old died after a fivesome sex romp with four young ladies in his house on Thomas Street, Lagos Island.

His young sex partners, now answering questions on the man's curious death from the police, claimed that they never knew Olanimu was dead until around 4am on the fateful day when they realized he no longer responded to their touch. "We thought he was enjoying it, so we were taking turns and just having fun. It was when we realized he was no longer responding that we screamed," one of the suspects told the police.

An eyewitness, identified as who rushed to the scene when he heard the girls screamed, said Mr Olanimu was confirmed dead the same day.

He said: "The girls, who were already intoxicated at that time, they thought he was enjoying it, they kept going on taking turns just having fun. It was when I noticed that he wasn't breathing that they started screaming. People rushed into the deceased's apartment to find the four undressed girls with his lifeless body. They immediately alerted the police, who came
