

Octogenarian, 5 others in custody for murder in Ekiti

From Wole Balogun, Ado-Ekiti

THE Ekiti State Police Command yesterday nabbed an 80-year-old man, Tijani Arowolo, for the alleged murder of one Sola Adeniyi, in Orisunmibare settlement of Oye Local Government Area of the state.

Other suspects who allegedly collaborated with the octogenarian in killing Adeniyi are John Ojo (77), Peter Ajayi (73), Olu Oniyelu (63), Oluwatoba Folorunso (60) and Olaide Dolamu (28).

Stating that the suspects would soon be arraigned in court, Ekiti State Commissioner of Police, Abdullahi Chafe, disclosed that the suspects, after killing Adeniyi on February 7, 2017, cut off his head and arms. He said the suspects were arrested based on intelligence.

The police boss revealed that all the six suspects had confessed to the crime, while two other suspects, who also participated in the killing, are still at large.
