

Goni Bukar Tabare and four other residents without firing a shot.

Chairman Magumeri Local

cluding the Chief Imam of Kurmiri village. We regret this attack and we pray Allah (God) grant Allage, a remote community in Konduga Local Government detonated their explosives, sources said.

all the telecoms facilities in the area in the heat of the insurgency in 2014," he said.

Policemen kill one, injure two in Warri

From Ben Dunno, Warri

THREE mobile policemen went on shooting spree at a public function in Warri on Sunday, killing a 32-year-old man, Elvis Ovie while two others are in critical condition. The policemen have been detained by the Delta State Police Command.

Investigations revealed that the police team attached to the Warri Area Command office were released to embark on an escort duty based on request a man suspected to be a fraudster in the community.

Speaking on the incident, one Emma Ovie, elder brother to the late Elvis explained that: "From what I know, my brother sells used clothes (Okrika) at Igbudu Market and was invited by a lady, is customer to attend her child dedication at Ejowho Street, near Polokor Market, Okumagba Layout, Warri, where he was killed".

The Divisional Police Officer (DPO) B Division, Okumagba Avenue, CSP Anietie Eyoh, who led his men to arrest the killer police team, said the matter was already before the State Police Command and that he was not competent to speak.

However, a source at the division stated that "Inspector Imana led the team and one Tony did the shooting which killed Elvis. This team is fond of illegal duties, aiding and abetting 419 and 'yahoo-boys' they are supposed to be investigating and prosecuting. Luck ran out on them Sunday when they provided escort in a private car for a gang of yahoo-boys led by one Benjy to the child dedication party.

"Apparently drunk and carried away by the perks from the Benjy, they started shooting to glorify the men as they engaged in Naira decoration of the celebrant. It was at that point they shot Elvis and Onome. Elvis died before he was rushed to the hospital while Onome is nursing bullet injury at a popular hospital in Warri."

Police Public Relations Officer, Delta Command, DSP Andrew Aniamaka, said: "The policemen in question are undergoing investigation. They are being tried for professional misconduct. If found guilty, they will face the law. They will be brought to Asaba tomorrow (today)."

PHOTO Xpress

TREE PLANTING