Ex-CDS, Alex Badeh, feared dead in Abuja

FORMER Chief of Air Staff as well as a former Chief of Defence Staff, Air Marshall Alex Sabundu Badeh, was feared dead in Abuja, yesterday.

Badeh was reportedly shot dead, yesterday evening, by gunmen, at Gitata, along the Abuja/Keffi Road.

The military has since recovered his remains, it was learnt. A retired Air Vice Marshall, who declined to be named, confirmed Badeh's demise.

"He died on the spot but an engineer, who was in the car with him, and his driver, were abducted. We don't know their fate yet."

Badeh was born in Vimtim, a little town in Mubi Local Government Area of Adamawa State, into a family of peasant farmers. He attended Vimtim Primary School, Vimtim and went on to obtain his school certificate from Villanova Secondary School in 1976 before proceeding to the Nigerian Defence Academy. He was chief of Air Staff from October 2012 to April 2014 and, from that time, to July 2015, was chief of defence staff.
