The state government has also declared one Okenze Onyenwoke, the alleged owner of the illegal refinery wanted.

The state commissioner for Petroleum Resources, Hon Goodluck Nana Opiah, who paid an on-the-spot assessment visit to the illegal facility, described the incident as very unfortunate, noting that he could not confirm the actual death figure.

He said: “It is sad, unfortunate and a lesson for our youths who are desperate for quick wealth, and this is the negative consequences of acquiring fast wealth.
