“Delegates were killed while returning from Mariga after they had gone to obtain their means of identification following postponement of the primary due to a protest by some of the aspirants who insisted every delegate must show a means of identification apart from the party membership card before voting.

“They were thereafter asked to go and bring their means of identification to authenticate their names, forcing the electoral committee to shift the primary to yesterday.

“The victims were, however, substituted to complete the number of delegates from the local government.”

“Though, we were able to escape the scene since the driver was not hit by bullet, four people, however, died instantly in the vehicle.”

He said the local government which shares border with Birnin-Gwari in Kaduna State has been under siege from gunmen who terrorised the area with impunity.”

Haruna called for permanent security operatives in the area to safeguard travellers and communities.

Chairman of the party in the state, Tanko Beji, who condemned the killing of the party members, described the incident as unfortunate.

He called on the state government to live up to It responsibility of protecting the lives and property of citizens, especially at this period of elections in the country where Nigerians are expected to move around for campaign and other electoral activities.
