IT was a case of the hunter being the hunted as a gallant Police Inspector attached to one of the formations in the Imo State shot and killed two gunmen who returned with their gang to Umuafo, Orogwe community in Owerri West Local Government Area in Imo State to continue their attack on their targets in the area, on Wednesday.

2 A reliable source from the troubled community told Daily Sun that the gunmen who, after killing seven security guards and wounding six others on Monday, returned on Wednesday, but, according to the source, they ran out of luck as two members of their gang were gunned down by the police officer.

The hoodlums, as the source further disclosed, had succeeded in breaking into the officer's apartment when he opened fire on them, killing one instantly, while others fled with bullet wounds into a nearby bush when they sighted a detachment from the divisional police in the area arrived at the scene.

Subsequently, with the help of the backup from the area divisional police that arrived, the surrounding bushes were combed and another hoodlum, who escaped with a bullet wound, was found dead.
