

The Lifeline

How man butchered estranged lover

•She seized my money, slept with my relation, rejected my late brother's wife whom I inherited – Accused

From Paul Osuyi, Asaba

TRAGEDY struck at Okolor Inland, a community in Udu Local Government Area of Delta State, where a 50-year-old father of three, Austin Gola Ejewor, allegedly murdered his estranged lover, 45-year-old Felicia Citibekpe.

Ejewor, a welder, allegedly used a machete to hack Felicia during a fight, which led to her death. The suspect initially escaped after the incident but later surrendered to the police.

Narrating what transpired while being paraded in Asaba, the state capital, by the Delta State Commissioner of Police, Wale Abass, the suspect accused his late lover of sundry offences, including having an affair with his relative just to slight him. He told Daily Sun that Felicia had held

•Ejewor