Nollywood actress, Sharon Okpamen died on Sunday.

Her demise occurred nearly a month after she gave birth to her second child. She was 35.

Jackreece Daniel announced the tragic news on his Facebook page.

He wrote: "Nollywood actress and producer has passed on. She was in coma after child birth and couldn't make it alive".

Also, confirming the sad news, Great Edos platform wrote on Facebook, "Sharon Okpamen has unfortunately passed on. It's sad day for Nollywood and the Edo entertainment scene."

It should be recalled that on July 31, the deceased announced the birth of her second child, Osarhuese, via Facebook.

She wrote "To God be the glory. Osarhuese is here."

Unfortunately, Sharon went into coma for days after her childbirth and couldn't make it alive.
