

Our correspondent also gathered that suspected herdsmen militia attacked villages in Katsina Ala LGA, killing a yet to be disclosed number of people and destroying property.

A source from the area said the herders stormed Kenvanger and Agbami villages, both located in Mbatyula Council Ward of Katsina Ala Local Government Area, at the wee hours of Thursday night.

“They stormed the villages around 1pm, forcefully gaining access to the homes of villagers while they were asleep.

The marauding group allegedly attempted to rape some of the nursing women, who raised alarm, prompting some men to rush to their aid.

“In the ensuing chaos, the militia opened fire, killing one person and leaving others with severe injuries.

“The incidents have sparked fear and anxiety among residents, who are demanding increased security measures to protect their lives and property,” said the source.
