Four men, including a deaf and dumb man, have been arrested for allegedly beating a female scrap dealer to death at Ubulu-Uku community, Aniocha South Council Area of Delta State. The four men, described as youths of Ubulu-Uku community in Aniocha South Council Area, were alleged to have attacked the woman for allegedly vandalising an electric wire in the community. According to the police, they have arrested the youths that carried out the murder.

The police have also arrested the driver, who used his car to convey the youths to where the woman was attacked and killed. The woman, whose identity is yet unknown, was murdered by the youths after they chased the lorry conveying her and her goods to Obior in Aniocha North Council Area.

They held her hostage and accused her of damaging an electricity cable, on two electricity poles, standing across the two sides of the road at Abuedo quarters in Ubulu-Uku. A source at the community said that the youths on catching up with the lorry driver and woman, beat both to a state of coma. The woman died in a pool of her blood.

The source further said: “The woman collapsed while they were beating her. It was with the assistance of some Good Samaritans, that she and her driver were rushed to the nearest hospital, where she died.”

Efforts to confirm the incident from the chairman of Ubulu-Uku Vigilante Group proved futile. The Police Public Relations

Officer (PPRO), a Deputy Superintendent of Police (DSP), Mr. Andrew Aniamaka, confirmed the case. Aniamaka said: “Detail information will be made available later. We have arrested four persons, including the deaf and dumb suspect.”
