

NEWS ▾

BUSINESS ▾

POLITICS

SPORTS

ARTS &amp; ENTERTAINMENTS ▾

SUNDAY MAGAZINE ▾

OPINION ▾

SATURDAYS MAGAZINE ▾

EDITORIAL

METRO AND CRIME

Hunting dogs discover human parts seller in bush

April 16, 2017 Pamela Eboh

Dogs on a hunting trip at Ukunu Eziora, Ozubulu in Ekwusigo Local Government Area of Anambra State yesterday made a macabre find – the den of an alleged human parts’ seller.

Information has it that the suspect was engaged as a security guard with the Nnewi Anglican Diocese at its postponed university site in Ozubulu where he allegedly used it as a point to sell and supply human parts to eaters and ritualists.

But the Administrative Secretary of Diocese of Nnewi Anglican Communion, owners of the higher institution the suspect allegedly guarded, Ven. Dr. Godwin Agba, while speaking our correspondent vehemently denied having the suspect as a staff of the diocese.

But a source, who spoke anonymously to Sunday Telegraph, said the ugly drama unfolded when dogs on a hunting trip displayed an unusual behaviour which prompted the hunters to follow the dogs to the grisly scene.

“The hunters were in the bush with their two dogs, who had gone ahead of them, only to come back to inform their owners through signs they interpreted to mean that there was an unusual discovery.

“When the hunters followed the dogs to a particular point in the bush, they were startled to see a fresh dismembered human body including the legs, hands and head without the ears as well as clothes suspected to belong to other victims spread on a tree.

“The hunters, named as one Mr. Paul and Chimezie, were said to have rushed back home to contact members of Ozubulu vigilance group who immediately followed them to the spot in the bush but could not see the human parts any move.

“After a long search, a man was seen in the bush who happened to be a security man working at a higher institution under construction.

He was confronted by a combined team of the hunters and vigilantes who arrested him

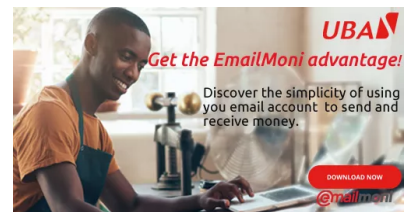

Search

Categories

Select Category ▾

image1

Tweets by @NewTelegraph1

NewTelegraph @NewTele...
UEFA League: Barca eye yet another famous comeback
newtelegraphonline.com/sports/uefa-le...

56m

NewTelegraph @NewTele...
New post (UEFA League: Barca eye yet another famous comeback) has been published on New Telegraph Newspapers -
newtelegraphonline.com/sports/uefa-le...

Embed

View on Twitter

in connection with the discovery," the eyewitness stated.

Narrating the story further, he said the vigilante group and the hunters were able to get the suspect to confess and he led them to a river bank where he kept the human parts.

On getting there, it was discovered that he roasted the human parts for his customers who usually drive into the forest at odd hours to purchase them for rituals and for consumption.

It was also learnt that the remains of the victims found with the suspect had been deposited at a mortuary while the suspect had been handed over to the police.

Confirming the arrest of the suspect over the telephone, the Anambra State Commissioner of Police, Mr. Sam Okaula confirmed the arrest of the suspect saying that there was no evidence yet to suggest that the suspect was a human part seller.

27 total views, 5 views today

Share this:

Like this:

Be the first to like this.

□ News, Sunday Extra, Sunday Magazine, Top Stories    - , ' , a, as, at, b, back, been, by, can, Chime, d, Day, earn, Eta, Firm, for, forest, Fresh, god, have, his, human, Hunting dogs discover human parts seller in bush, I, Ile, in, is, m, Man, me, members, n, new, No, of, on, our, over, owner, police, POS, Pro, re, s, security, sell, SME, So, staff, star, state, Suspect, that, the, to, Ubulu, UN, up, US, was, We, with, working, yet

« ...Governors, others congratulate Christians

Fixing of hair is not normal –Yemi Alade »

Related posts

April 18, 2017    Wole Shadare

0

Ethiopian Airways first international flight to land at Abuja airport

An Ethiopian Airways flight has become the first international service to touch down at the newly...

News    Sunday Extra
Sunday Magazine    Top Stories

April 18, 2017    Wole Shadare

0

First plane lands at Abuja airport

The first plane has landed at the newly refurbished Nnamdi Azikiwe International Airport, Abuja. The small...

News    Sunday Extra
Sunday Magazine    Top Stories

April 18, 2017    Online Editor

0

World must aid famine-threatened Nigeria to avoid 'mass exodus'

The devastation wrought by Boko Haram, which has left millions of people in northeast Nigeria on...

News    Sunday Extra
Sunday Magazine    Top Stories

175,520 likes

Like Page

Contact Us

Be the first of your friends to like this

New Telegraph

56 mins

Little over a month after producing the greatest comeback in Champions League history, Barcelona need another special turnaround as they face Juventus in the second leg of their quarter-final on Wednesday. Luis Enrique's side were taken apart in the first leg in Turin, losing 3-0 to a Juve team inspired by Paulo Dybala, who scored twice. In the last 16 they became the first team ever to overturn a 4-0 deficit when they beat Paris Saint-Germain 6-1 in the return at the Camp Nou, so fans are hoping for a similar "remuntada" this time. [ 541 more words ]

<https://newtelegraphonline.com/.../uefa-league-barca-eye-yet.../>

NEW TELEGRAPH VIDEO AD...

Recent Posts

One killed, two injured in Ebonyi varsity cult war

April 18, 2017

Ethiopian Airways first international flight to land at Abuja airport

April 18, 2017

First plane lands at Abuja airport

April 18, 2017

UEFA League: I can lead Barca to second 'miracle' – Neymar

April 18, 2017

World must aid famine-threatened Nigeria to avoid 'mass exodus'

April 18, 2017