Man dies on Lagos-Ibadan Expressway —NEMA

National Emergency Management Agency (NEMA) yesterday said that one person died near the Redemption Camp and Sagamu Interchange in Ogun State.

The NEMA spokesman, Mr. Ibrahim Farinloye, who disclosed this, urged anybody whose relation was missing to approach the Federal Road Safety Commission (FRSC), Mowe Unit Command, Ogun State, for identification of a recovered body.

He said: "A body of a middle-aged man was found by the roadside directly opposite Christopher University before the Redemption Camp on the Ibadan-Lagos Expressway this morning (yesterday).

"The attention of the FRSC, Mowe Unit Command, was drawn to the body location by NEMA for recovery so that relations could have easy access to the body at the Unit Command."

In another development, Farinloye, according to the News Agency of Nigeria (NAN), said that two different accidents occurred on the long bridge and at Kara-Isheri in Ogun

State.

He said: "On the long bridge, a lorry with registration number SMK 550XN laden with iron wire crashed on a 24-seater bus with registration number LSR 653 XT.

"One middle-aged woman and a man sustained injuries but were treated on initial First Aid by NEMA and FRSC officials before being taken to Accidents and Emergency Medical Centre at Lagos Toll Gate, by 7Up.

"Also another 14-seater Lagos painted commercial bus with full
