

Altar boy dies in building collapse

A mass servant identified as Pascal Afodote from Our Lady Mother of Perpetual Help Catholic Church, Ajah in Lagos, has died in an unfortunate incident.

Our correspondent learnt that the deceased had served the 6:30am and 8am mass in his parish on that fateful Sunday.

But on his way home after the mass, an uncompleted building fell on him. The said building was just two blocks away from his house.

He was immediately rushed to various hospitals. On arrival at the last hospital, he was pronounced dead and was brought back to the church where his funeral mass took place.
