An official of the Federal Road Safety Commission (FRSC) was killed while a yet-to-be-identified man lost their lives when a truck rammed into the commission's vehicle.

The accident occurred on Wednesday on the Lagos-Ibadan Expressway.

The Corps Public Education Officer, Bisi Kazeem, confirmed this yesterday in a statement.

Kazeem said the accident was caused by a Mercedes Benz truck driver who rammed into the FRSC vehicle.

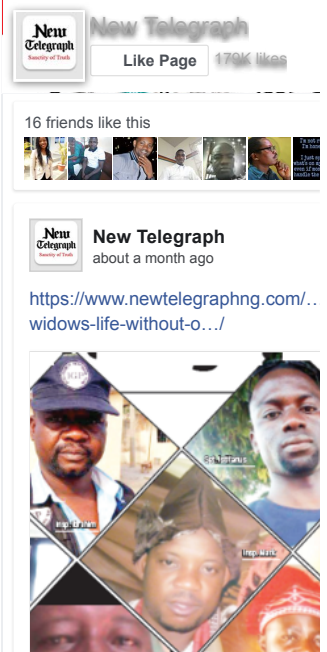

According to report, the accident occurred around Guru Maharaj Ji Village at the Ibadan end of the Lagos-Ibadan Expressway. Witnesses said the accident also left many people injured.

"The attention of the Federal Road Safety Corps has been drawn to the unfortunate road traffic crash that occurred in Ibadan that claimed the lives of an FRSC staff and one other person who is yet to be identified.

“Due to the sensitivity of the incident and the need to commence immediate investigation, the Corps Marshal, Boboye Oyeyemi, has directed the Oyo State Sector Commander to carry out full investigation into the cause of the incident and report immediately.

“While investigation is still ongoing, the public is advised to remain calm and peaceful. Meanwhile, first information report at our disposal indicates as follows: ‘About midday of Wednesday, around 11a.m., a team of FRSC men assigned to monitor and control traffic were approached by a truck driver who intended to make an enquiry from one of the members of the team.

“In the course of the inquiry, a Mercedes Benz ran into the patrol vehicle and in the process killed the arresting marshal and the other person while they were discussing with the other FRSC official occupying the driver’s seat who was also seriously affected by the crash.

“The sector commander, along with her management team, inspected the scene to conduct a crash investigation and also to gather information from first responders (eyewitnesses).”

“From that investigation, it was gathered that the FRSC patrol vehicle was not in motion when the incident occurred. The seriously injured victim has since been rushed to hospital for medical attention while the deceased have been taken to the morgue.

“The Corps Marshal commiserates with all affected and sends his condolences to the families of the victims and wish the injured victim quick recovery,” Kazeem said.
