May 30, 2020 From Musa Pam, Jos

Plateau State Police Command has arrested 17 suspected kidnappers who allegedly killed Dr. Nandi Drenkat, a Senior lecturer with the University of Jos.

State Police Commissioner, Edward Chuka Egbuka, who paraded the suspects along other criminals on Saturday at the State Police Command, warned kidnappers and bandits to relocate from the state.

He noted that Mohammed Abubakar and Ismaila Abdullahi were arrested by operatives of the Department of State Services (DSS) for killing the University Lecturer and kidnapping his six-year-old daughter.

"In what we refer to ideal synergy with operatives of the Department of State Services (DSS) in Plateau state, and in line with the Inspector General of Police, IGP Mohammed Abubakar Adamu, the operatives of DSS in the state were able to track down two other members of the notorious gang of kidnappers, who had escaped a gun battle with the police with bullet wounds.

"The suspects confessed to being part of the gang that murdered the lecturer and kidnapped his daughter. They took the operatives to their hideouts, where two firearms were recovered."

Egbuka also recovered a Beretta pistol, which was stolen from late Sergeant Jonathan Danladi of Laranto Division, who was killed trying to rescue an 18-year-old female victim of the gang.

He noted that two other suspected kidnappers were also arrested on May 9 by operatives of the Kanke Police Division.
