

Fathers' Day: 13-year-old boy axes dad to death in Edo

Francis Ogbuagu
BENIN

Edo State.

The tragic incident occurred on Sunday at Egbon Estate, Evbuotubu in Egor Local Government Area of Edo State.

The victim, Pa Osariakhi Oronsaye, had earlier raised the alarm a week ago that his son wanted to kill him and invited policemen from Evbuotubu Police Station, Benin. Abubakar was arrested by the police.

But on their way to the police station, his father appealed to the police to leave the boy alone.

However, Abubakar allegedly axed his father to death in his sleep in the early hours of Sunday.

It was learnt that the teenager used the axe to strike his father on the head, killing him on the spot.

The secondary school student has been arrested

As children, world over, were celebrating their fathers, living or dead, on Father's Day, a teenage boy, Abubakar Oronsaye, allegedly axed his 79-year-old father to death in

UK court jails British-Nigerian 18 years for raping minor

Ndubuisi Ugah

A 64-year-old Nigerian-born British citizen, Adeyinka Ajose, has been sentenced to 18 years in prison by a Croydon Crown Court in England, for sexually assaulting a teenager.

According to information on the website of the Metropolitan Police, the court heard that police were called to a residential address in Addington, Croydon at 21:13hrs on November 10, 2020.

The victim alleged that she was sexually abused by Ajose over several months, while

Amos added that if the victim had not had the courage to come forward, Ajose's campaign of abuse might well have continued.

He said: "I urge anyone who has been a victim of sexual abuse or who knows anything about it, to come forward to police. We have specially trained

Oronsaye