A 71-year-old man, Aji-bola Olufemi Adeniyi, has reportedly died during a sex romp with a sex worker inside a hotel in Ogun State.

Saturday Telegraph gathered that the incident happened during the week at a hotel in Ogijo area of Sagamu Local Government Area of the state.

It was further gathered that the deceased had visited the hotel to 'relax' with one of the prostitutes who was simply identified as Joy.

"In the course of the sexual intercourse, the man slumped and died immediately," an hotelier in the area said while confirming the incident to our reporter.

According to the source, policemen from Ogijo division had visited the scene to evacuate the corpse of Adeniyi, where they also recovered his ATM card and driver's license.

"As police were trying to locate the family of the man, his body was deposited at the morgue of Sagamu General Hospital, Ogun State," said the source. He added that: "The sexual worker has also been arrested by the police to unravel the cause of the man's death."

When contacted, the Police Public Relations Officer (PPRO) of the state police command, DSP Abimbola Oyeyemi, confirmed the incident but refused to comment, saying "the family of the deceased has pleaded with us that they don't want the issue in the media."
