

Teenage Girl's Lifeless Body Recovered From Well In Kwara

November 10, 2021 Stephen Olufemi Oni, Comment(0)

The lifeless body of a 17-year-old girl, simply identified as 'Aminat', has been recovered from a well at Oke-Adini, Alagbado area, Ilorin, the Kwara State capital.

It was learnt that the victim had been missing for four days before her body was later found inside the well.

Men of the Kwara State Fire Service reportedly recovered the body on Wednesday following a distress call from one Abdulfatah living in that neighborhood.

Reacting to the unfortunate incident, the Director, Kwara State Fire Service, Prince John Falade, expressed sadness over the incident and advised members of the public to be more vigilant in their respective neighborhoods so as to prevent a recurrence of the sad incident.