

Bandits kill village head, 2 others, scores abducted in Plateau

Musa Pam,
JOS

Gunmen on Monday night attack and killed the village head of Nyalun Community of Wase Local Government Area of Plateau State, Salisu Idris and abducted several persons, also carting away motorcycles.

New Telegraph Correspondent gathered that the suspected bandits also killed two other residents of the community.

The victims according to residents were killed when the gunmen arrived the community on motorcycles and started shooting sporadically to scare people.

Investigation revealed that the attackers, who invaded the village around 9.30pm, also abducted five members of the community including house wives.

Shapi'i Sambo, a youth leader in Wase told our correspondent that the gunmen also made away with a number of motorcycles belonging to people of the community.

The youth leader said, "The attackers came in their numbers and started shooting sporadically, they went straight to the traditional ruler's house, killed him and abducted five members of his family."

Spokesperson of the Plateau State Police Command, DSP Alabo Alfred, while confirming the incident said three people were killed in the incident, adding that details of the incident will be made available.