The Lagos State Police Command said it has launched investigation into the death of Mr. Adeniyi Sanni, a senior aide to the Chairman, Senate Committee on Appropriation, Senator Solomon Adeola.

The Police Public Relation Officer (PPRO) in the state, SP Benjamin Hundeyin, said the command has commenced investigation into the murder of the victim.

He said, "Police confirm the killing of Mr. Adeniyi Sanni. The wife told the police that her husband called saying he was stopped by 'some soldiers' demanding to see his papers.

"He was later found dead with about five bullet holes in his back and three shells of expended ammunition by his body. Investigation has commenced," Hundeyin said.

A statement signed by Mr Kay-ode Odunaro, spokesperson for Adeola (APC/Ogun West), said the lifeless body of Adeniyi was found with gunshot wounds and dumped at Toyota Bus Stop in the Oshodi area of Lagos on Saturday morning. According to Odunaro, information available to the bereaved Senator in Abuja indicates that Sanni was stopped at a checkpoint around Berger area of Lagos State, on his way to his home at Isheri.

"He was asked to provide the documents of the car he was driving, which he did through his wife who sent all the documents to his phone WhatsApp.

"It was gathered that the wife called a while later and the late Sanni told him they were still checking the vehicle's papers.

"His apprehensive wife later called on Sanni's associates to say she could no longer reach her husband on phone, necessitating the mobilisation of a search party," he said.
