

Bandits kill 7, abduct others in separate Sokoto attacks

Umar Abdullahi
SOKOTO

No fewer than seven persons were reportedly killed when suspected bandits attacked two communities in Sokoto State between Friday and Saturday. The incidence according to a source in the state occurred in the Kojiwo community in Goronyo Local Government as well as Gwamatase village in Wurno Local Government of the state.

Confirming the incident, the spokesman of the State Police Command, ASP Ahmed Rufai, however, stated that at least three people were killed in the attack with one person injured.

He however could not confirm the attack in Kojiwo ward, in Goronyo Local Government Area where five people were allegedly killed and many abducted by gunmen suspected to be bandits.

The PPRO in his response said he would get back once he gets the confirmation of the said attack.

However, a resident of the area who spoke on condition of anonymity said the incident happened on Saturday evening.

He alleged that apart from the killings of the five residents, many people were also abducted in the unfortunate attack.

"They attacked the village on Saturday evening where they killed five residents of the area instantly.

"They also abducted many people in the village," he added.

Bandits

Taiwo Jimoh

The National Drug Law Enforcement

NDLEA uncovers meth, opioid

I didn't break Mohbad's neck, singer's cousin speaks out

The cousin and personal assistant to the late artiste, Ilerioluwa Aloba, popularly known as Mohbad, Darosha Losobeh, has broken his silence on the viral video of the singer's coffin allegedly showing he had a broken neck.

Mohbad, the ex-Marlian record signee died at the age of 27 on September 12, and his death has stirred controversy with many Nigerians calling for justice for his sudden demise, leading to the arrest of his former boss, Azeez Fashola, aka Naira Marley and Samson Balogun aka Sam Larry.

fin where we can keep him till morning and the same ambulance would drive him down to the place of burial.

"The whole family agreed to the idea because the ambulance that took us to Ikorodu was complaining that they had to leave the same night back to the island. It was only his mum that was not present there that midnight."

Continuing, the late singer's cousin stressed that the only issue that brought him into the picture was that he paid for the arrangement of the coffin and ambulance, maintaining that he never knew