

Rivers police launch manhunt for kidnap kingpin

Emmanuel Masha

PORT HARCOURT

Police have launched a manhunt for an alleged kidnap and armed robbery kingpin Iken Thank God aka General 2man.

General 2man is believed to be behind the series of abductions and robberies in the Ogbologbo community in the Ahoada West Local Government Area of Rivers State.

According to the Commissioner of Police Tunji Disu, the suspect, who was allegedly implicated in the murder of Inspector Usang Ude, narrowly escaped after they launched an operation against him and members of his gang.

While the kingpin managed to escape, his second-in-command, Thank God Uchechi aka Pastor SP and third-in-command, 'Western King' Okpo Emenike, were fatally wounded.

He also said several other gang members sustained injuries, and significant weaponry was seized after General 2man and his gang engaged police tactical teams in a fierce firefight.

Disu praised the efforts of the tactical team and emphasized the commitment of the police force to combating crime in the state.