The family of Toheeb Eniafe, allegedly killed by a policeman at the NNPC Filling Station, Obalende Lagos, has raised the alarm over alleged cover-up of the suspect by the police authority.

The family disclosed this yesterday in Lagos while briefing newsmen on the update of investigation into the case.

It was reported that Toheeb Eniafe, was allegedly shot dead at the NNPC Filling Station Obalende, on May 1, 2024 by a policeman while trying to buy fuel.

The command's spokesperson, SP Benjamin Hundeyin, in a statement on May 2, said they have identified the police officer who allegedly shot Toheeb Eniafe, at a petrol station.
