

Nollywood Filmmaker Kidnapped, Killed

New Telegraph

August 22, 2025

1 minute read

Popular Nollywood producer and film director, Victor Tobechukwu Okoli, better known as Vic Matt, has died days after his abduction in Enugu State.

The Nollywood filmmaker and director was also the manager and close friend of the ongoing Big Brother Naija Season 10 housemate, Bright. According to available information, Vic Matt was kidnapped on Friday near Ntachi Osa, a busy and popular spot in Enugu, the Enugu State capital, but was later confirmed dead after being shot.

His passing has left many in the Nigerian film industry shocked and grieving. The news was confirmed by fellow filmmaker, Ben Cassie, on Instagram, who described Vic Matt as a dedicated filmmaker known for his integrity in an industry often marked by rivalry and deceit. She remembered him for his calm demeanour, intelligence, and commitment to producing quality films, as well as for offering encouragement and support to peers.