

6 Die, 2 Rescued in Lagos Boat Mishap

No fewer than six suspected students of the Lagos State University (LASU), Ojo, died when a passenger boat which they were travelling in capsided at Cowry bridge end of the Lagos lagoon.

The boat, which was traveling from Mekuen to Takwabay Island, capsided after it ran into a stormy wind, which eventually threw it into a stormy sea wave. Though, two out of the eight persons on board were later rescued by policemen attached to the Marine Department of the State Command, the other six were said to have drown before the arrival of the rescue team.

Student, Freshman Hostel