

Robbers Kill Undergraduate

Tragedy struck in Ilorin Kwara State capital, on Christmas eve, when an under-graduate 200 level student of University of Ibadan Oyo State, Miss Augustina Titilayo Idowu, was killed by men of the underworld.

The incident, which occurred at her residence located at Oyun, in Oke -Oyi Local Government Council area of the state, while she was preparing to go to bed.

Speaking with newsmen in Ilorin yesterday, the father of the deceased, Dr Idowu Simeon

From Hammed Shittu in Ilorin

Bamidele, Head of Health Department, Oyun Local Government Area of the state, said her daughter was killed by the hoodlums who invaded their apartment at Orisumibare Village, in Oke-Oyi, Ilorin East Local Government Area.

According to him, it was on the night of Saturday at about midnight, when they heard a big bang on their door. Everyone was terrified and quickly ran into the room, while his late daughter hid behind a chair in the parlour.

"Suddenly we had a gun shot and immediately we had our daughter's cry that 'they have killed me,' we quickly came out from the room to meet her, but before we could do anything, she slumped and died on her way to the hospital."

Bamidele said that was the second time his house was been raided by hoodlums, as two men in November this year attacked them and rubbed them of their belongings.
