Nigeria: Lawmaker Dies in Motor Accident

Mohammed Aminu

1 January 2009

Sokoto — Member representing Sokoto South Constituency in Sokoto State House of Assembly, Alhaji Yahaya Bello-Rijiyi, yesterday died in a ghastly motor accident along Sokoto-Goronyo road.

THISDAY checks revealed that the accident occurred Tuesday evening, at Goronyo Local Government Council, while the lawmaker was traveling with his two wives and a two-year-old girl.

THISDAY learnt that the vehicle, driven by the lawmaker, somersaulted several times, after he reportedly lost control.

However, the three other occupants in the vehicle had minor injuries and are currently receiving treatment at Usman Danfodio University Teaching Hospital, Sokoto.

The remains of the deceased were also deposited at the morgue of the Teaching Hospital until this morning when he was buried in accordance with Islamic rites at Rijiyi area, Sokoto.

Bello was aged 40 years and attended the Assembly's sitting yesterday during deliberations on the N 54.778 billion 2009 budget presented to by Sokoto State Governor, Aliyu Wamakko on Monday. The funeral prayer was attended by Wamakko, and his Deputy, Alhaji Mukhtari Shagari, as well as the Speaker of the Assembly, Alhaji Abdullahi Salame.

The lawmaker was elected to the Sokoto House of Assembly last year under the platform of the Peoples Democratic Party (PDP) and is survived by two widows and seven children.
