But while parading 19 arrested suspects in connection with the killings, the Special Task Force (STF) spokesman, Capt. Charles Okeocha, said only one man was shot dead beside his bicycle, while two others were seriously injured and are receiving treatment in the hospital.

Handing over the suspect to the State Command of the Nigerian Police Force in Jos for further investigations, Okeocha said "the suspects came to the village at about 8: 30 pm on Monday and shot two who are already receiving treatment at the Air Force Hospital.

"As at the time the men of the STF arrived the scene it discovered an unidentified corpse lying by a Bicycle beside the road three Km away from the Village".

According to him, "at the same point, a Toyota was seen carrying nineteen youths of Gohon village also in Vom, with (weapons) including two locally made Revolvers, two swords, two machetes, one dagger and other dangerous items", adding that cash of N3,325 and handsets were also recovered from them.

Life-Support at UNTH

*From Christopher Isiguzo
in Enugu*

the hospital last Sunday has been on life support, while serious arrangements are been made to stabilise him before he would be flown to either South Africa or Egypt for intensive medical attention.

When THISDAY visited the hospital yesterday, there was serious security presence within the ICU area, while his son, Emeka Ojukwu (Jnr), and a former chairman of Nnewi North local government area, Mr. Azuka Okwuosa were among few relatives and well wishers that were seen at the ICU reception unit.

In a chat with THISDAY, the Chief Medical Director of the UNTH, Enugu, Dr Anthony Mbah said a team of consultants led by Prof Vincent Ike; a Consultant Cardiologist was attending to the former warlord, while disclosing that Ojukwu was gradually regaining consciousness.
