The House of Representatives Tuesday appealed to the police and the State Security Service (SSS) to probe and find the culprits of the recent attacks and killings of 24 people of Tungar Rakumi and Mallamawa villages in Zamfara State.

The House in plenary also sought the intervention of the National Emergency Management Agency (NEMA) in providing relief materials to the surviving members of the communities.

Sani Ibrahim Ruwan Dorawa (APC, Zamfara), moved the motion under matters of urgent national importance, informing the House that as a result of the attack, "the entire Tungar Rakumi village was turn to ashes."

Dorawa, who noted that the degree destruction of the properties in the communities was frightening, said there was need for the House to "direct the Inspector General of Police, the SSS to as a matter of urgency fish out the perpetrators of this act and bring them to justice."

The House unanimously adopted the motion, even as the lawmakers condemned the attack on the communities.
