Former militant leader, Government Ekpemupolo better known as Tompolo, has accused the military of culpability in the death of his father.

His father reportedly died at Liliy Clinic, Warri, Delta State, in the wee hours of yesterday. Confirming the death of the 84-year-old man, Paul Bebenibo, Tompolo's spokesman, blamed it this in good faith if this was done to your father or someone of this age in your family?

"I have not heard of anyone that was treated like this even in the volatile North-eastern part of the country. I have said it on many occasions that the issue I am having with the Economic and Financial Crimes Commission (EFCC) will not lead to violence or resort to destruction of pipelines and other oil facilities because I have a good case."
